COVID-19 Professional Cleaning

About our services

Prevention is always best cure, we all have a responsibility to protect ourselves, and others. Cleaning does not kill germs but by removing them it lowers their numbers and risk of spreading infections. Disinfecting with chemicals however, does kill germs on surfaces.

Primo Cleaning Services can help you by cleaning your Homes, Offices, Schools and work places. We offer one-off Deep Cleans or regular maintenance cleans, we provide all products & equipment to ensure a thorough professional clean each and every time.

In this current situation across the world we need to help each other as much as helping ourselves and cleaning is no longer considered luxury but an absolute necessity.

Our dedicated professional & committed staff members are fully aware of the necessary requirements needed to carry out their roll as cleaners for all our existing & potentially new clients.

People can become infected with COVID-19 after touching unwashed surfaces - health officials have warned. Like many other Coronaviruses, the COVID-19 strain is often spread through the air in tiny droplets from the noses and mouths of infected people. Each cough can fire about 3,000 droplets onto other surfaces. The droplets can land on the surfaces themselves, or be carried there by unwashed hands that were used to cover the cough. The virus can be spread to dozens of commonly touched surfaces, like desks and tables, computers, phones and stationery - as well as door handles and light switches.

- It confirms that employees have arrived/left the site (particularly important for working alone).
- It sends an alert message by text & email to our Manager so we can see the time they logged in/out and also if there hasn't been any activity.
- Time sheets can be produced from our system with all the relevant information.
